UNITARIAN UNIVERSALISTS OF THE GRAND VALLEY NEWSLETTER

December 2023

FROM OUR MINISTER, REVEREND WENDY JONES

“Science cannot solve the ultimate mystery of nature, and that is because, in the last analysis, we ourselves are a part of the mystery that we are trying to solve.”
Max Planck

I love the concept of mystery!

When people ask me what it means to be a Unitarian Universalist, many times I'll say “well, on any given Sunday morning I'll throw out many questions, but I don't usually have very many answers.”

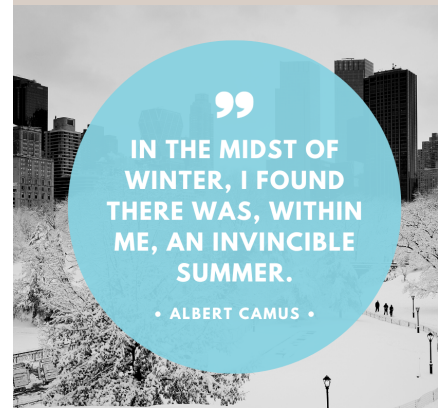

Our 4th UU principle honoring the “free and responsible search for truth and meaning,” by its nature embraces the concept of mystery. In my experience, Unitarian Universalists in general are comfortable existing within a realm of mystery.

However, we (UU's) also tend to be a tad bit suspicious when we are around people who claim to “know the truth” or have all the answers. For the most part, though, we are fairly comfortable and even enjoy contemplating the questions.

As science, through quantum physics, medical breakthroughs and increasingly elaborate space telescopes reveal more and more of the true expanse of universe, life becomes more mysterious, not less.

How large is it really? What all is out there? How do we understand our place/role in the world as we acknowledge that we are not and never have been the center of the universe while being an integral and vital part of it?

My guess, is that Earth isn't the only planet that houses living beings with consciousness. That's fascinating to me, and I am excited for some of those mysteries to be revealed, hopefully in my lifetime.

In my mind, there is a beauty in the mystery. There is a sense of peace in knowing that we don't have it all figured out, nor should we.

What would it like be like if we immediately had the answer to every question we asked? Where would the reflection be, or the deep contemplation, or the invitation to connect with something larger than our minds can comprehend?

One of the mysteries that I find fascinating and love to contemplate is the concept that as large as the universe is, we can go the other way with it also being infinitely smaller and smaller. The continuum of size is infinite in both directions. To me that is absolutely mind boggling.

Something might be said for having all the answers, but I much prefer to live within mystery of the questions.

JOANNA WERNETTE, DIRECTOR OF MUSIC

Greetings, music lovers!!

Some exciting musical happenings to look forward to this coming month! On December 17th, we'll have our all ages service with some joy-filled world music featuring our wonderful UUCGV Youth Music and UUCGV Choir. We will also be having a music fundraising BAKE SALE that Sunday following the service - please mark your calendars!

The following week, is Christmas Eve, and we'll be sharing the fun stories behind some of our most beloved holiday songs together during our morning service. Our Christmas Eve service will feature the UUCGV Choir and some wonderful new music anthems to look forward to!

Since Christmas Eve falls on a Sunday this year, we'll be hosting a fun, casual Holiday Cabaret on Friday, December 22 at 7 pm - come sing/play a favorite holiday classic, share a beloved poem, or tell some jokes, and come enjoy a wonderful evening of music making, sing-a-longs, and hopefully cocktails! Stay tuned for more details to come.

We'll be having another all-ages karaoke night during UU night on Wednesday, December 6 from 5:30-6:30 (youth music will still meet from 6-6:30, so kids should plan to sing first!) followed by another 'music reading 101/group voice class' upstairs in the sanctuary from 6:45-7:30.

Hope to see you there!

☺ A SPACE FOR PEACE ☺

We invite you to express messages of peace with chalk on this parking space for peace at 536 Ouray Ave., Grand Junction.

We invite whoever would like to join this campaign to create their own space for peace at their home, place of business or faith community. Take pics often and share #aspaceforpeace

UUCGV Green Team

UPCOMING MEETING:
THURSDAY, DECEMBER 7
@ 7 P.M. VIA ZOOM

ALL ARE WELCOME!

JOURNEY TO A GREEN SANCTUARY

In living into our 7th Principle, the mission of the Green Team is to guide ourselves, our congregation & our community into a deeper awareness, understanding, and commitment to preserve and protect the "interdependent web of all existence" of which we are part.

The Green Team meets monthly to exchange ideas and provide tips for leaving a smaller footprint. If you're interested in learning more about or joining our group email green@grandvalleyuu.org.

WE SHELTER

Once again, UUCGV is honored to participate in the winter emergency shelter program sponsored through Grand Valley Peace & Justice (otherwise known as WE Shelter.)

This year we will be opening our building from December 31st through January 13th. This is an amazing opportunity to step out of our comfort zones, get to know our unhoused community and offer your valuable time.

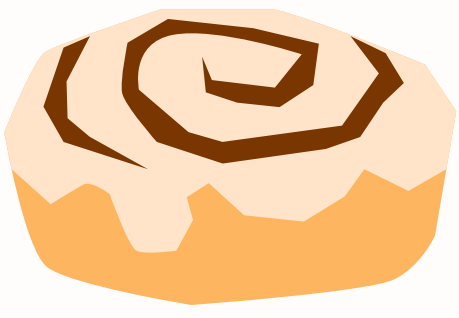

We will need people to spend the night, help prepare breakfast & dinner. If you are willing to provide, food, money or your time reach out Tom Acker or Rev. Wendy Jones. Contact information can be found in the UUCGV directory or call the office at 970-257-0772. We will have sign-up sheets on Sundays after church.

This program is literally saving lives as it provides and opportunity for our unhoused neighbors to be safe & warm during the coldest winter months.

THE LONGEST NIGHT SERVICE

Join us for an evening of reflection, acknowledging the darkness, and embracing the light. We will have an indoor service at 7:00 p.m. on December 21, followed by a parking lot bonfire with a release ritual and s'mores.

CINNAMON ROLLS, SONGS & STORIES

Don't miss this fun, informal Christmas Eve morning. We will enjoy cinnamon rolls (and other treats) while we sing and learn about the stories behind some of our favorite carols.

CHRISTMAS EVE CANDELIGHT SERVICE

The Carol of the Stranger

In this more traditional evening service, we'll explore how the Christmas story tells us what it means to welcome a stranger.

"GREEN" FINANCIAL INVESTING - JOEL PRUDHOMME, GREEN TEAM MEMBER

Our UU seventh principle has environmentalism at its heart and our UUCGV Green Team is offering information to help our congregants live that principle.

We all make choices everyday with our money--- whether making consumer purchases, giving it away to others or investing for our futures. Focusing on the last choice, how do we invest our money to support a better environment i.e. to be "greener"?

We need to know what businesses and individuals are employing good "green" practices. These practices might involve low pollution releases/ better waste management / recycling , employing renewable energy sources or using greener business suppliers in their operations. Unfortunately, the information needed in these areas is often not readily apparent to us citizens. So, in recent history, nomenclature was developed to categorize major corporations/stocks/mutual funds/bonds by their Socially Responsible Investment (SRI) or Environmental Social & Governance (ESG) or Social & Environmental Responsibility (SER) reputations. The social and governance matters in these classifications include criteria such as human rights, social justice, non-profit organization donations etc.

It is often difficult to separate the social and governance ratings from the environmental ones but a good resource for identifying national corporations' "greenness" is the Invest Your Values section in the As You Sow (asyousow.org) website. This is a non-profit educational entity offering information/ratings on investing via categories such as fossil-free or deforestation-free funds. Another good source is "The Better World Shopping Guide" published by New Society Publishers. This guide rates major consumer corporations on their ESG and often makes specific comments on the environmental practices of many of those. [The Better World Guide is a consumer purchasing guide as well ---rating products in 74 different categories]. Good Money Inc. has a website that is also very helpful in identifying "greener" investment opportunities, as well.

Traditional business publications like U.S. News and World Report, Business Week and others will periodically relate articles about environmental successes by major corporations. Other entities like Morningstar.com report financial returns of corporate stock mutual funds/ bonds of ESG entities. Once again, the environmental record of a business reported may be lumped in with those social and governance issues. Investopedia is also a web-oriented investments source that makes suggestions for green investments in various sectors like agriculture, transportation, energy etc.

Interestingly, Wall Street, state legislatures and many financial advisors have often railed against ESG investments because the returns from interest, dividends or stock sales were not as big as those from fossil-fuel or heavy industry corporations. However, with climate change, new consumer habits and recent governmental regulations many "green" investments are outperforming the old-school companies. Morningstar recently showed that the top five ESG mutual funds had returns of 65% to 114% over the last five years.

Often, smaller local businesses like energy-efficient home builders, family farms, cooperatives etc. have more "green" characteristics than major corporations. Their environmental practices can be more evident, and they are often looking for loans, partners and common stock purchasers. Obviously, more risk and private investigation needs to be done by a UU congregant looking for green investments with these smaller local businesses.

It is obvious that a UU congregant can invest in themselves i.e., start their own "green" business ---whether it is an organic farm or becoming a consultant on renewable energy. Obviously, someone should have some business background, develop an extensive written business plan and get as much advice as possible before this kind of "green" investment. Our local Business Incubator Center and the federal government Small Business Administration (SBA) offer much help to entrepreneurs.

Many UUs have a financial advisor or stockbroker to help pick a national corporate stock/bond/mutual fund investment. There are also on-line brokerages (like E-TRADE, Charles Schwab, TD Ameritrade, Fidelity) for self-directed "green" investing via the internet. We all know that many businesses are "greenwashing" their bad products and policies so be sure to use trusted third-party sources before throwing your green money into "green" investing.

PICK YOUR SUNDAY GREETER DAY!

As scary as it might sound, volunteering a day or two a year to welcome congregants and visitors to Sunday Worship can be a rewarding and relaxing experience.

Greeters help hand out hymnals and order of service pamphlets. They direct guests to sign the guest book, count how many are in attendance, pass around the offertory baskets, and collect and count the money received before turning it in at the Administrator's Office.

If everyone picked a day or two we'd have the year covered!

My grandfather shared with me the gift of wonder for nature and awe of the magical power contained within a seed. The connection I now have with plants undoubtedly took root though time spent with him in his incredible garden when I was young.

Still with the same sense of awe, he wrote to me years later,

“Make sure that you take time to marvel at the miracle of growth. It still amazes me that a minute seed can produce such magnificent plants. You are just the facilitator - the rest is up to nature.”

This sense of wonder is the magic that makes life rich. It's in not having all of the answers which allows us to feel amazement and humility.

This month in our children's programming we are going to take a look at how we choose to perceive anything and everything can transform it from mundane to miraculous.

Last month we dove into practices to deepen our feelings of appreciation and made the connection that gratitude and generosity are fundamentally interconnected. We can now take it a step further, making yet another connection - we can also feel gratitude for the things we don't understand, for the mystery of it all.

Join us this month as we practice recognizing the mystery behind the ordinary and seek truth within the miracles.

Independent Documentary Film Series

The Independent DocuFilm Screening Series, co-hosted by Junktown Cinema Club and UUCGV, is intended to serve as a platform to shed light on topics related to humanitarianism, environmentalism, and social justice with the idea that by meeting with the film creator/s after the showing, we equip the community with the information and tools to take steps of action inspired by the film.

The film series will resume in January with one film screening each month. Go to www.grandvalleyuu.org/films for info on past and future features.

Homeless Winter Immersion Experience

Have you wondered what being houseless might be like?

First Christian Church, 1326 N. 1st Street is hosting an immersion experience on Friday, December 1 starting at 5:00 p.m. This event serves as a fundraiser for United Way's "United to Solve Homelessness Fund". The event will provide a greater understanding about what life is like for our unhoused neighbors in our community. Gather to share food, listen to speakers on topics like surviving winters, poverty and other challenges living outside brings.

Attendees will then camp on the Church lawn. For more information contact First Christian Church at 970-778-5473. Register at gjdisciples.org/events. You may also sponsor someone to camp to help raise more donations.

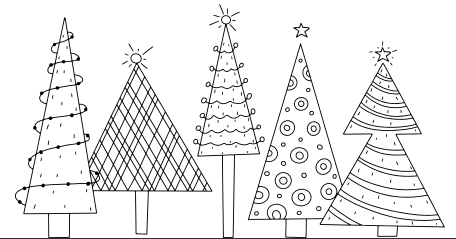

Winter Solstice Blessing

May the longest night and the shortest day
bring rest to your mind and soul, I pray.

May you find guidance and may you find peace
as the circle of light will slowly increase.

Embrace the magic
that the darkness bears breath deep in the chill and shift in the air.

May you always be blessed with the light from within and may well-being be yours
as a new cycle begins.

Each month we collect change (coins) from the offertory baskets and donate the funds to a local charity. On average, this effort usually brings about $100/month.

The change collected during November went to The Gift of Love. They provide individualized care packages for people in need.

Change collected during the month of December will go to support the UUCGV's participation in the WE Shelter Program that we are hosting December 31 through January 13.

If you have a local charity that you would like to suggest be a Change for Change recipient, please send the organization's details to administrator@grandvalleyuu.org.
